

MATERIALS:

- One empty tissue box (rectangular)
- 1 square building block (or dice)
- Colorful duct tape or crafting tape (use acrylic paint or markers if you don't have tape)
- Cardboard (or an empty cereal box)
- A marker or pen
- Tissue paper, stickers or whatever you prefer to decorate the tissue box (optional)

SET UP INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Take your cardboard or cereal box and cut it up into 12-18 equal sized pieces (a little smaller than standard playing cards).
2. On each card use a marker/pen to write a different recyclable item on it, along with a small picture for visual aid (2-3 items for each category: plastic, glass, paper, organic, metal and e-waste).
3. Flip your tissue box upside down and cut six slits big enough to insert a playing card (if you are using cardboard for your cards, make sure the slits are wide enough to fit the cards)
4. On the top of each slit write the name of the recycling categories and assign each a color.
5. Label each card (on the same side as the writing/drawing) with the correct color you decided to make for the category. For example if the item is newspaper, label that card with the color you chose for paper recyclables.
6. Decorate your tissue box with colored tissue paper, stickers, or markers (make sure you do not cover the card slots you made or the tissue opening).
7. Lastly, transform your square block or old die into the die for the game. Using tape or paint cover each side with the colors you chose for the categories.

HOW TO PLAY:

1. Lay all of your playing cards out and turn them face-side down.
2. Have the first player roll the die and whichever color you roll, try to pick that color by flipping one card over and seeing if its a match.
3. If its not a match, flip the card back over and try to remember where it is for your next turn!
4. If it is a match, the player puts the card into your the correct slot in your recycling bin tissue box.
5. Whoever recycles the most wins!
